

Health and Safety Professional

Health, Safety and Environment (HSE) Coordinator

Job Description	Leads development and application of the overall HSE plan for the entire project.
Education/Certification	Appropriate training in the development and application of HSE policies, such as a diploma in occupational health and safety or a degree in a related discipline.
Experience	Experience on similar large projects and familiarity with the client's standards will determine the level of responsibility given.
Skills	Good oral and written communication skills at all levels, from field personnel to senior management. The ability to think logically and solve problems.
Salary Range	From a base of $60,000 to more than $100,000 per year.
Transferability	Transferable to any large project.

First Aid Technologist

Provides advice, information and referrals for all construction workers regarding health and related matters. Provides first aid and participates in site safety protocol. Requires diploma in a registered Occupational Health Association. Also should have certificates in:

- Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR)
- St. John Ambulance Standard First Aid Instructor
- Audiometric (hearing) and pulmonary (lung) function testing, if required for the site.

Needs appropriate class of driver's licence (may vary).

Salary range: $50,000 to $60,000 per year.

Note: These job descriptions represent positions frequently found in large pipeline projects. Appropriate education and experience will play a determining role when selecting candidates. Some positions may require extensive natural gas related expertise. Salaries and wages are based on 2001 data and may change according to market conditions.